

Guidelines to Ecology

A profit minded company shall nevertheless contribute it's fair share to secure the foundations of our common habitat and hence of economy itself by actively protecting the environment.

1. BERNING shall take a leading role in this to help ecology to it's right against economy - also in case of conflicting interests.
2. We shall supply products of high environmental standards: no consumer shall be harmed by any of our products.
3. We shall make sparing uses of raw materials, energy and other resources and avoid damages to the environment: no nocuous effects on mankind and environment shall come from BERNING's production.
4. We shall provide safe and healthy working conditions for our employees and keep away from them harmful impacts: no employee shall incur health damages from work.
5. BERNING shall respect applicable environmental laws, regulations and standards.
6. All actions and decision shall be subject to the criteria of environment protection and compatibility.
7. In working with customers and partners BERNING shall minimize emissions and make caring use of resources. Same shall apply to working with suppliers and contractors.
8. Employees shall be instructed as to environmental conscious actions, be motivated and trained.
9. Any stress upon the environment that derives from BERNING's site shall be constantly monitored and constantly further minimised.
10. Environment protection shall be represented with credibility and adequacy. Pretension and reality shall correspond.

Wuppertal, 9/ 1995, update 5/ 2016

Christoph Berning

